

CORRECTION NOTICE

ATTENTION APPLICANTS AND MEMBERS OF THE QALIPU MI'KMAQ FIRST NATION

An earlier version of a Public Notice for applicants and members the Qalipu Mi'kmaq First Nation, which appeared in several Newfoundland newspapers in August 2013, incorrectly stated that individuals are required to submit their original long form birth certificate. Applicants are only required to provide a copy of their long form birth certificate. An original version is not required. As a result, applicants who provided either a copy or the original version of their long form birth certificate before November 2012 are not required to take any further action. Applicants who have not yet submitted their long form birth certificate as part of their application must provide a copy of their certificate, and a proof that it was requested before November 30, 2012 – no later than September 3, 2013.
