ALL HANDS ON SCIENCE

At Fisheries and Oceans Canada (DFO), we protect and manage Canada's oceans, fisheries, including aquaculture, all while supporting a diverse participation in fisheries. Our department is strongly committed to fostering an inclusive culture and diverse workforce by removing systemic barriers to accessing employment opportunities for candidates from employment equity designated groups. Successful candidates who have self-declared as belonging to any employment equity groups will be given priority of appointment.

Hooked on science and looking for an opportunity to grow your career? With various opportunities across Canada, DFO is recruiting passionate individuals eager to support the sustainable management of fisheries and aquaculture, and protect our aquatic ecosystems.
