2018 Aboriginal Student Awards Program

Celebrating 25 years of commitment to Aboriginal students across Canada.

The RBC Aboriginal Student Awards Program was launched in 1992 to assist Aboriginal students to complete post secondary education, and provide an opportunity for RBC® to strengthen it's relationship with the Aboriginal community.

This scholarship is intended to support those Aboriginal students who have at least 2 years remaining in their post-secondary studies. Scholarship recipients are selected primarily on the basis of personal and academic achievements, and individual financial need. Status Indians, Non-status Indians, Inuit and Métis are welcome to apply. Selected students will receive up to $4,000 per academic year for educational and living expenses for 2 to 4 years.

RBC awards ten scholarships in two categories for students:

- Majoring in disciplines related to the financial services industry
- Majoring in disciplines unrelated to the financial services industry

The Corinne Mount Pleasant-Jetté Leadership Award

In honour of the late Corinne Mount Pleasant-Jetté, a prominent member of the First Nations community who was instrumental in leading the launch of the RBC Aboriginal Student Awards Program, one of the RBC Awards will be named 'The Corinne Mount Pleasant-Jetté Leadership Award'. This award will be given to one of the ten winners who demonstrates leadership skills in their community and acts as a change agent for Aboriginal communities.

Levis Wild

2017 Winner

Métis, University of Waterloo, BBA/Bachelor of Computer Science

Through this scholarship, Levi has been given the opportunity to access a further education which might not have been financially possible before. Growing up with a single mother, money was never easy to come by, and the same is true with post-secondary education. He chose a home university that is very active in the First Nations' community, working in an attempt to help reconcile the past. With his education, he will be able to pursue his passion of computers and problem solving, while also learning about the complex world of business. Furthermore, with two degrees he will be more competitive in the workforce, and make for an easier transition into the real world.
